City Commissioners Order Satisfaction of $5,400 Judgment

Attorney Hanneken Will Receive Damages; Tyne Appointment Okayed

The city council last night approved payment of $5,400 to Albert H. Hanneken, who won a judgment for $5,400 in a damage suit last year for injuries suffered when he fell through an open manhole near First street and Galena avenue in 1945.

The city was left to pay the full $5,400 award made by a Circuit court jury when an Appellate court decision, returned recently, reversed the verdict as it applied to Joseph and Jennie Eichler and Corinne Miller, other defendants.

The city did not join in the appeal. Judgment was entered on the verdict May 14, 1946. The award drew five per cent interest.

Tyne, Made Assistant. The council also officially appointed Frank J. Tyne as assistant chief of police after passing an ordinance creating the post, which will carry an annual salary of $2,520. Tyne's selection was unanimous and he was sworn in at the meeting.

In other business the council: (4) Invited the Illinois Central railroad to have representatives meet with the council next week to discuss grade crossings of their line here after the road had notified the council it wished to re-

Howard Lang Pleads Not Guilty to Murder

Chicago, Nov. 13—(AP)—Twelve-year-old Howard Lang, freshly scrubbed and combed and neatly dressed, spoke out briskly, "not guilty, Judge," when arraigned today on a charge of murdering a playmate, Lonnie Fellek, 7, during a trip to the woods to roast potatoes last month.

Prosecution and defense lawyers agreed to have the boy examined by a psychiatrist Saturday, before a trial date is set. Lang, who confessed he stabbed the Fellek boy, slashed his throat, and crushed his skull with a heavy slab of concrete, has been in the county jail, where he attends regular school classes for young inmates. He missed the morning class but planned to attend the afternoon session.

Lang is the youngest murder defendant in Chicago's history.

City Asked to Cure Couple's Headache

Newport Beach, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—The minor miracle of having an oil well pop up in their own backyard has become such a headache for Mr. and Mrs. William W. Tallman that they want a judge to take the problem off their hands.

The Tallmans filed suit against the city of Newport Beach yesterday seeking relief from what they describe as "the untenable position in which they have found themselves."

The "untenable position", in less legal language, consists of sticky, black oil oozing from an old well that was abandoned 15 years ago and the fact that the city won't allow them to have it pumped because of an ordinance which applies to residential areas. The Tallmans have swabbed and bailed in attempting to control the problem. Neighbors have complained or the mess.

In their suit for declaratory relief the couple say that sale of the oil would be profitable and they asked that the city be ordered to permit pumping of it.

Paper Charges Spy Fired 'Normandie'

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—The French language newspaper France Amerique says a nazi spy, now being held in Germany on a murder charge, has admitted responsibility for the fire that turned the French luxury liner Normandie into a flame-ravaged hulk as it lay at its pier here on Feb. 9, 1942.

The newspaper, which said it obtained its material from sources both here and abroad, quoted the spy as saying he gave orders to former members of the German-American Bund, working aboard the Normandie, to fire the vessel. At that time the 85,425-ton liner was being converted for troop transport duty.

The story was written by the paper's new editor, G. F. Estrangin.

The blaze was touched off, France Amerique continued, when the German spy, aided by soldier lamps to ignite kapok lifebelts spotted at strategic points about the ship.

Rumors of sabotage ran rampant after the fire but Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan attributed the disaster to sparks from a welder's torch and said there was no evidence of sabotage.

Two Chiang Regiments Given Up as Lost, Hear

Nanking, Nov. 13—(AP)—Remnants of two Nationalist regiments trapped in the heart of Shihkiachwang by Chinese Communists who now control the rail hub 172 miles southwest of Peiping have been given up for lost, a government official said today.

Li Gen, Teng Wen-Yi, information director for the national defense ministry, said reinforcements rushing to the rescue of the trapped men would be unable to save them from sure death.

Turkish Armed Forces Test U. S. Equipment

Istanbul, Nov. 13—(AP)—Formations of bomber and fighter planes skimmed over Istanbul today as Turkish army, navy and air force units combined in the second day of intensive exercises concentrated chiefly in the militarized zones of nearby Thrace.

Informed sources said one phase of the exercises was to try out new equipment turned over to Turkey by the British and Americans.

Disturbed

Denver, Nov. 13—(AP)—Used car dealer Dan Stugart was disturbed today over the theft of an automobile he valued at $2,025 but he was more concerned, he told police, over the thief escaping with the firm's blank check book and two pens.

Invocation of "Thousand Shames" Fails to Move Landlords in Iowa

Marshalltown, Ia., Nov. 13—(AP)—A pastor who invoked "a thousand shames" upon persons who refuse to rent to couples with children said today the plea he issued this week had not changed any landlords' minds so far as he knew.

Dr. Peter Smith, 41, pastor of the First Baptist church here, said in a bulletin to members of his congregation:

"Houses for rent but not for kids! What does God think of such manners?" Dr. Smith, father of three girls himself, said the many touching cases he encountered in his pastoral calls moved him to issue his admonishment. "In most cases those who rent property do not want children in their houses," Dr. Smith's bulletin said.

Five Supervisors in South Part of Lee Vote for Road Work

Six Miles of Highways Scheduled for Improvement in '48

Supervisors from the five Lee county townships—East Grove, May, Marion, Harmon and Hamilton—who opposed a board of supervisors' proposal approved last week limiting future work on county roads to two roads in each district, yesterday selected a section of road north of Walnut and a portion of the Maytown church road for work in 1948.

They agreed on a stretch starting just north of the Lee-Bureau county line north on the Indian-head trail to a point two miles north of the county line in Hamilton township, and the portion of the Maytown road from the Latta corner east four miles to the Maytown church corner and then north a short distance.

Covers Six Miles. Three bridges on the Hamilton township road and two on the Maytown road will not be improved. The total improvement will cover six miles.

Work on the Maytown road was never opposed at the meeting, but Harmon township Supervisor William Kranov held out for work on the road south from Harmon. However, a 4-1 vote favored work on the Hamilton township road proposed by J. E. Mau, Hamilton supervisor.

It was this group which raised opposition at the board of supervisors' last meeting to the proposal limiting future work to two roads in each district after a previous board motion had limited the

Other Friendship Trains Announced

Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 13—(AP)—Plans for new Friendship Trains were being made as the original, laden with a heavy harvest of Nebraska wheat, rolled into the Iowa corn belt today.

The train was 57 cars long as it crossed the Missouri river during the night on its cross-country trip picking up food for Europe. Sponsors were having difficulty keeping abreast of unannounced plans for adding to its load of food.

"We keep running into food cars we don't expect," said Tom Slater of the president's food committee. "With unscheduled stops we've had to make, it's a good thing the railroads are being generous with their facilities. And there will be more Friendship trains."

Slater said another train will originate at Louisville, Ky., and travel north through Indianapolis, Ind., to Chicago. A definite schedule has not been set.

Prescott Motion for Quashed Indictment Is Under Advisement

Judge Harry E. Wheat to Hear Further Arguments in Matter Tuesday

Judge Harry E. Wheat took under advisement yesterday afternoon a motion by Rep. Lyle M. Prescott to quash indictments returned against him by a Lee county grand jury last August in connection with land deals, and carried over arguments on the defendant's challenge to the manner in which the jury was drawn until Tuesday morning.

Prescott's counsel moved to strike the answer of State's Attorney Morey C. Pires, contending that the grand jury was legally drawn, but Judge Wheat allowed the answer to stand, and the issue will be continued Tuesday.

The challenge to the array charged that the April grand jury had not been formed in conformity with the state statutes governing the procedure.

Meyers Not in Court. The challenge also charged that when the grand jury was ordered recalled to investigate the land deals, which culminated in the indictment of Prescott and William and Leroy Meyers, it was an order to recall an "illegally constituted body."

As a result, the challenge contends, the jury's subsequent acts, including returning of the indictments, were illegal and void. It contends that the sheriff's return fails to show the manner in which the summons were served, and that the summons to recall the jury were not served in the proper manner.

Pires' answer, denying the charge, says that grand jurors were notified by the sheriff's office by mail and that the jurors returned postcards signifying receipt of notice of service. His answer also includes affidavits.

Also scheduled for consideration Tuesday are the Meyers' motions to quash the indictments. The Meyers were not in court yesterday.

THURSDAY, NOV. 13, 1947

FORECAST FOR DIXON AND VICINITY—Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight; Friday cloudy with slowly rising temperature; rain beginning Friday afternoon or evening and continuing through Saturday morning; light variable winds tonight and southeasterly 15 miles per hour Friday; low tonight 23, high Friday 36, low Friday night 33.

For the 24 hours ending at 7:00 p. m. Wednesday—maximum temperature 23, minimum 28 (year ago 51 and 25); part cloudy. Friday—sun rises at 6:56; sets at 4:29.

TODAY'S WEATHER STORY

(By The Associated Press) The mercury plunged to 7 below zero in Grand Forks, N. D., today—the lowest mark in the nation this season—as cool weather spread over the eastern half of the country and into the south.

Temperatures were near the zero mark in several communities in North and South Dakota and Minnesota and dipped below freezing in the eastern states and parts of the south.

Low early morning readings included zero at Bemidji, St. Cloud and Duluth, in Minnesota; Huron, S. D., and Jamestown, Fargo and Pembina in North Dakota.

The cold air reached the east and head by a gunman who, police said, crept up the rear stairs to Kosar's second floor apartment and fired three shotgun blasts through the glass of a storm door.

Kosar's wife, Florence, 49, suffered minor wounds in the arm and leg by stray pellets. His stepson, Jack Verdoni, 22, and William Fisher, 15, also in the kitchen eating with the Kosars, were not injured.

Three Men Convicted. Andrew Aitken, deputy chief of detectives, said Kosar and six companions looted the vault of E. H. Rimbald Real Estate Company of $2,000,000 on Jan. 12, 1935. Five were captured, another was found slain and one still is being sought.

Aitken said that Kosar and Thomas Leahy turned state's evidence at the trial and the other three men, Willie Niemoth, Patrick Flaherty and Llewellyn Morgan, were convicted. Flaherty and Niemoth were sentenced to life imprisonment and Morgan to three to eight years.

Aitken expressed belief that friends of the men sentenced in the robbery had engineered the slaying of Kosar.

Would Condition U. S. Aid on Nation's Resistance to Reds

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Harriman testified today he would favor stopping at once and American aid to a nation which might in the future come under the influence of Russia.

Harriman was asked about his attitude to such a case while he was testifying to the house foreign affairs committee in behalf of the administration's proposed $597,000,000 emergency assistance for France, Italy and Austria.

"I would then lose interest in it, in that particular country," Harriman said.

But, in contrast, he said he believes America should hold itself ready to extend help to nations of eastern Europe if they should free themselves of Russian domination.

Certain of these nations, the secretary said, would have "liked to come in and work with us," but were prevented from doing so by Russia.

"Poland, Hungary and Romania are very friendly to us and have been forced into the iron vise against their will," Harriman said.

Asks About Exports. His views brought up under questioning by Rep. Jackson (R-Calif.). Jackson also wanted a list of commodities which this country now exports to Russia.

Harriman promised to furnish it. Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the senate foreign relations committee made clear that the United States has a vital interest in the world's uranium resources.

He told a state department representative, appearing before the committee which also is hearing testimony on the administration's emergency foreign aid program:

"Some of us, before this show is over, are going to want some information about uranium."

Uranium is one of the key materials used in the manufacture of the atom bomb.

Seek Some Money Available. Previously, Rep. Jonkman (R-Mich.) suggested that unexpended money from a $332,000,000 foreign relief fund voted by congress last May might be enough to tide European countries over the winter.

Jonkman said only $128,000,000 of the established fund had been used to buy goods shipped through Oct. 31.

He said only one-third of the money was used in five months and added that "if they don't ship with any greater rapidity, they will have enough from the $332,000,000 to supply them until March 31."

Harriman replied that it is his understanding "those funds will run out very shortly."

The government has asked for an emergency appropriation of $597,000,000 to help France, Italy and Austria until March 31.

The discussion came up amid signs that some house Republicans may strive to make the foreign aid

Informer Is Shot, Killed in Ambush

Chicago, Nov. 13—(AP)—Michael Kosar, 42, one of the seven men who stole $2,000,000 in a vault robbery in 1935 and later testified against his fellow robbers and won probation, was shot and killed last night while eating supper with his family in his west side home.

Kosar was struck in the back and head by a gunman who, police said, crept up the rear stairs to Kosar's second floor apartment and fired three shotgun blasts through the glass of a storm door.

Kosar's wife, Florence, 49, suffered minor wounds in the arm and leg by stray pellets. His stepson, Jack Verdoni, 22, and William Fisher, 15, also in the kitchen eating with the Kosars, were not injured.

Army Officer Tells Rumors of Officers' Stocks Purchases

Air Forces Sent Letters But Took No Other Steps, He Says

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—Col. William B. Nuckols said today the Army Air Forces sent letters of inquiry to purchasing officers but took no other investigative steps to his knowledge of rumors in early 1943 that some officers had substantial stock holdings in companies with which they dealt.

Testifying before the senate war investigating committee, Nuckols explained that he was a public relations officer and the question of investigation was outside his hands.

He said he got "vague rumors" of stockholdings by officers and took the matter up with superiors because he felt the AAF should be prepared to answer the rumors

Justice Fulton of Sycamore Very Ill

Sycamore, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—Justice William J. Fulton of the Illinois Supreme court was seriously ill in Community hospital today.

Friends said the 72-year-old justice was "a very sick man" when he returned here Tuesday from Springfield. He was taken to the hospital yesterday.

Earlier this year, Justice Fulton was ill in a Chicago hospital for some time. He resumed his Supreme court seat several months ago. He has been a member of the court since 1942.

Kingfisher, Okla., Nov. 13—(AP)—A "mysterious malady" attacked and nearly killed seven persons here before the correct diagnosis—a case of chimney swallows—was made. Two local doctors disclosed today.

The trouble started a week ago when Mrs. Howard Baldwin complained of "feeling dull all over." Two days later she collapsed at home and Dr. C. M. Hodgson sent her to the hospital, where she improved quickly.

On Monday night her husband was stricken. Dr. Hodgson found him slumped in a rocking chair, in great pain, and apparently victim of a heart attack. Dr. Hodgson gave him the appropriate treatment and called in two nurses, some friends and relatives.

Baldwin looked worse and worse. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Every, turned up the furnace to relieve the chill.

Twenty minutes later Every asked his wife to take him home—he was sick, too. She did, and then called another physician, Dr. C. F. Lattimore. When she returned to the Baldwin home, nurse Myrtle Foote was unconscious in a chair. She and Baldwin's boss, Fred Lankard, looked after the nurse and then Mrs. Every fainted.

When Lattimore arrived Lankard complained of dizziness himself and went outside. Another friend, Tommy Francis, drove up. He and Dr. Lattimore started looking. They found two pet canaries dead on the floor of their cage. They raised the windows and called the gas company.

Gas men found odorless, colorless and deadly carbon monoxide flooding the house.

Chimney swallows had built mud nests in the roof vents of the furnace, sealing them tight. The victims are recovering.

Detroit Auto Plant Hit by Walkout of 2,700

Detroit, Nov. 15—(AP)—The first shift at the Briggs Manufacturing Company's Conner plant, numbering approximately 2,700 workers, today walked off the job in protest to an earlier grievance involving 30 loading dock workers in the receiving and shipping department.

Al Makowski, vice-president of the CIO United Auto Workers Local 742, said the walkout was a "spontaneous move of protest" against the company's firing of the loading dock workers, who went home yesterday complaining of the cold weather.

The company's statement said that the temperature was 30 degrees at the time and "there was no complaint about the weather by the men who replaced those who walked out."

The Briggs Conner plant turns out bodies for the Packard Motor Company.

Petroleum Production Continues Upward Trend

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—World production of crude petroleum continued its upward trend in August, rising 2.1 per cent over July to a daily average of 8,403,534 barrels, the Oil Forum, a trade publication, reported today.

The report said the daily average for the first eight months of 1947 at 8,024,077 barrels was 13.3 per cent lighter than for the corresponding period a year ago.

The New Mexico is owned now by Lipsett, Inc., a New York salvage firm, which purchased it for scrap and also leased part of the Newark Navy Base for the dismantling job.

Charges Mate With Planned Doddering

Miami, Fla., Nov. 13—(AP)—A 19-year-old bride of seven weeks charged her elderly husband with a deliberate attempt to appear as a "foolish, doddering old man" and asked that he be restrained from disposing of property worth about $250,000.

Mrs. Hazel Rutherford Maxa's charge and request were contained in a cross-bill filed yesterday in Circuit court in answer to a suit brought by 67-year-old Frank Maxa, Sr., for annulment of his marriage.

Maxa testified last week that he was unable to recall his marriage to his pretty Aberdeen, Md. bride at Lawrenceville, Ga., last September.

In her cross bill, the young bride said that lavish gifts were a part of Maxa's courtship which began in Maryland three years ago. Maxa "ardently courted" her and besought her to marry him, she said, and on numerous trips they made her call him "uncle" and falsify her age.

Action to determine Maxa's mental responsibilities is pending before County Judge W. Frank Stanton.

Great Dreadnaught New Mexico Not in Range of Fireboats

One-time Battleship at Large on Atlantic for Time During Night

(Pictures in adjoining column) Newark, N. J., Nov. 13—(AP)—The one-time battleship New Mexico was lost and found again today 58 miles outside of New York harbor and then taken in tow by two tugboat crews who were ready to rename her "Reluctant."

The 30,000-ton former dreadnaught, center of a controversy which has caused Newark officials to send out fireboats to blockade her from being scrapped on the city's waterfront, became the focus of another argument after wandering out of "formation."

Meslek Towing Lines, two of whose tugs cut the New Mexico loose in heavy seas en route from Boston yesterday, said the ship never was lost because it had been under observation on the tugs' radar screens.

But the Coast Guard said it was requested to send a plane to find the New Mexico this morning. After the plane found the ship wallowing in the Atlantic, the Coast Guard said, it directed the two tugs to the scene and the battleship was taken in tow once more.

Vigil Maintained. At the entrance to Port of Newark inside New York harbor, two Newark fireboats meantime maintained a vigil to keep the former battleship out of Newark. City officials have ordered that no more ships be scrapped on the city's waterfront—and sent out the fireboats armed with chemical sprays and water hoses to show they meant business.

The fireboats remained at their posts although Mayor Vincent J. Murphy said after a conference with Undersecretary of the Navy Kenney yesterday in Washington and that some agreement to stave off the pending "battle" was in sight.

Ship Lost During Night. Skippers of the two tugs towing the New Mexico told the Coast Guard running lights were kept on the New Mexico during her over-night drift but that they lost her at an undisclosed hour and could not find her this morning.

Three men were believed aboard the New Mexico. The Coast Guard said it thought the tugs cut the ship loose because of heavy seas in which they were making scarcely any progress.

Despite the possibility of a Washington-enforced truce in the battle of Newark Bay, new complications were reported brewing at Santa Fe, New Mexico. The local Chamber of Commerce there said it plans to protest Newark's "slur" in refusing admittance of the one-time battleship, bearing the state's name.

The New Mexico is owned now by Lipsett, Inc., a New York salvage firm, which purchased it for scrap and also leased part of the Newark Navy Base for the dismantling job.

John Bassett Moore of World Renown as Lawyer is Summoned

First American Elected to International Court of Justice Dies

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—John Bassett Moore, 86, nationally recognized authority on international law and the first American elected to the permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague, died last night.

He retained a lively and active interest in both domestic and foreign problems long after his retirement from a distinguished career in the public service.

He was only a few years out of law school when he first became associated with the Department of State and from that time on for more than two score years he gave unstintingly of his services. He was a prodigious worker.

Although a Democrat in politics, he never was a strong partisan and he was called upon by Democratic and Republican administrations alike to act in important advisory capacities or to serve on special missions. He was always deeply interested in matters that affected his country and particularly in neutrality.

Views At 80
Shortly after the outbreak of hostilities in Europe in 1939, he made a declaration which was presented to the Senate foreign affairs committee in which he asserted that to "confer the power of peace and war" on the President "would at once make us an autocracy."

A month or more later, when he was approaching his 80th birthday, he inferentially advocated the exclusion of armed merchant ships from American ports.

"Nothing could be more erroneous or more likely to mislead the public," he said in a letter to The New York Sun, "then statements to the effect that, as a result of the so-called, but mis-called 'world war' of 1914-1919 there are now no generally accepted rules of international law and that in 1917 the United States finally despairing of safeguarding its rights under international law, felt obliged to go to war."

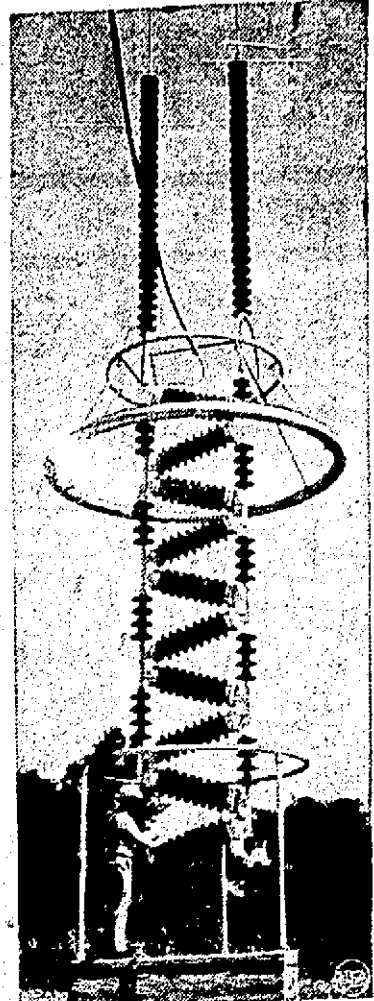

A Signal Honor
He was signally honored as the first jurist from the United States elected to the Permanent Court of International Justice sitting at The Hague, in 1921.

At that time, he was already a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration set up under the convention for the pacific settlement of international disputes, signed at The Hague in 1899 and revised in 1907. He joined that august body in 1913.

Born at Symrna, Del., December 3, 1860, he was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1880, later studied law at Wilmington, Del., and practiced several years before he became a law clerk at the State Department in 1886. He served two years and was named Third Assistant Secretary of State, in which post he remained through 1891.

He left the state department to become a professor of international law at Columbia University, a post he held until 1924, but meanwhile he was active in many phases of public service.

Drafted Historic Protocol
During the McKinley administration, he was summoned to the State Department and for a few months was Assistant Secretary of State and then Acting Secretary. He drafted the historic protocol under which hostilities with Spain were ended and later accompanied the peace commissioners to Paris as secretary and counsel.

Fifteen years afterward, he was again called to the State Department, this time by President Theodore Roosevelt to serve as counselor. He remained only about a year, however, preferring to return to Columbia.

Entering into this decision were said to have been personal elements growing out of embarrassments he felt, because he never had been identified with the William Jennings Bryan wing of the Democratic party.

He was also not entirely in agreement with some departmental policies, particularly that adopted toward the Huerta administration in Mexico which he believed should be recognized.

Official Missions
His many official missions included agent of the United States before the U. S.-Dominican arbitral tribunal in 1904; U. S. delegate to the fourth International American Conference at Buenos Aires, 1910; special plenipotentiary to the Chilean Centenary, 1910; member of the International Commission of Jurists, 1912-1922; delegate to the Pan American Financial Congress, 1915, and vice-chairman of the International High Commission then organized; Ambassador extraordinary, delegate and President of the International Conference at The Hague 1922-1923 on rules for aircraft and radio in time of war.

Many colleges and universities

conferred honorary degrees on him. He was a member of a score of learned societies and clubs both in the United States and Europe. In 1927 he was awarded the Roosevelt Distinguished Service Medal.

His work kept him abroad for many years, although since 1928 he spent most of his time in the United States. He wrote extensively on foreign and domestic problems and on international law. He has also lectured widely on these subjects.

His Writings
By 1937 he had completed eight volumes on international adjudications, ancient and modern, together with mediatorial reports, advisory opinions and the decisions of domestic commissions on international claims, with historical and legal commentaries, a monumental work, which occupied him through his declining years. He edited the works of President James Buchanan in twenty volumes in 1908.

He married Helen Frances Toland of Philadelphia on April 9, 1890.

Thought for Today
The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.
—Isaiah 35:1.

To rejoice in the prosperity
of another is to partake of
it. —William Austin.

Dramatic Conservation
Ordinarily the term "conservation" is coupled with the activities of public agencies when referring to the natural resources of the country. As a matter of fact, the normal functioning of business and industry in this country has resulted in the most effective
form of conservation.

In a search for efficiency, industry after industry has learned to make the fullest use of our natural blessings. The industries which are most intimately concerned with the development and use of the nation's rivers, forests, and mines, work tirelessly to wrest the maximum benefits
out of the resources at their disposal. Those having to do with our forest products have evolved
a thousand ingenious schemes for the utilization of every stick of wood and scrap of sawdust. They work constantly to expand and protect the forests.

One of the latest instances can be seen in the activities of American Forest Products, Incorporated,
an organization of the timber industry. It is experimenting with an intensive program to educate woodland owners to the advantages of guarding their trees and marketing them wisely to the end
that woodland production will remain abundant. It shows that the right kind of conservation is good business.

The combined efforts of the industries interested in the nation's natural resources add up to a tremendous conservation movement, a dynamic movement, because while promoting conservation, they make available for use countless products for the benefit of mankind.

tion.

The executive committee of the

tee has unanimously adopted a

gates pledged to place him in nomination at the GOP convention in

As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—Various accounts of historic proceedings at Tehran
and Yalta strongly suggest that vodka, wine and bourbon have influential in decisions which have been calamities to Christianity and Western civilization. But, although it is freely related that Stalin drank vodka bottoms up and that Churchill stood manfully
to his brandy, we have no honest
statement of Franklin D. Roosevelt's P's and Q's. Elliott speaks of his father's dreams in a way
to leave pop sober, and this may be the fact of it. But whether Roosevelt lushed or honestly
turned down his glass when Elliott
was seeing things through a mist
of champagne bubbles is a question on which any good examiner
would press the witness for an answer. If Churchill emptied a bottle of brandy, what was Roosevelt drinking and how much of it?
And how do we know that the stuff which Stalin tossed off was not water when we remember that the late Heywood Brown used to boast that the colorless water in the pitcher on the lectern when he was preaching his message to mankind was not ice water but gin?

These were roaring, hairy chested
giants boasting of their capacities. Roosevelt always yearned to ride in the smoker amongst men.
It was unlikely that he stuck
to harmless crocks.

Churchill is one of those rare
old soaks whose judgment improves with pickled and we might wish that our fellow had followed the same taste. If Roosevelt wasn't drunk, he might as well have been, for he couldn't have done worse.

Discussion of alcohol as a problem of the most nearly royal family we ever had in our presidential palace took me some time ago to the case of our first visitation, Theodore. He was brother to the amiable rummy who was father to our own Eleanor the Great. Whether better or worse,
politics was different in Theodore's reign, for this matter was a personal delicacy which in any campaign waged under the ethics and customs of the Democratic national committee in the time of the new deal would have been broadcast as a taint of the blood.
Yet the brother's unhappiness was not mentioned then, even though Theodore dared to make a legal issue of his own sobriety. It remained for Eleanor herself to set down for the historians, in her first book of memoirs, the unqualified statement that her father was a souse.

In the face of Theodore's dogmatism and his unshakable libel
verdict against an obscure publisher who had, in general terms,
called him a stow-away, I still believe
he was neither as dry as his idolators believe nor as bibulous as his brother. It was easy for a man of Theodore's intimidating reputation to make the defendant admit that he had been guilty of an overstatement. But the issue was not whether Roosevelt drank, but whether he was a drunkard. The verdict has been cleverly construed

to mean that he was almost a total abstainer and never had been known to get tight.

He was not an abstainer and he sometimes did pick up a load. This might explain some of his outrageous conduct as, for example,
the time that he violated hospitality, precedent and manners to make a public brawl with Senator
Foraker at the Gridiron Dinner,
where the remarks are supposed to be nonpolitical or, at worst,
non-controversial and confidential. Roosevelt attacked Foraker, a fellow guest. Foraker thus deserved and got his chance to reply
and did. Roosevelt thus made news and broke the Gridiron's traditional privacy. Roosevelt not only acted the fool and the boor but he referred to the negro race in a word that would make him a Fascist today.

"It was the worst performance
he ever pulled off," Jim Watson wrote in 1936. "I never could understand what induced him to smash all the proprieties."

A few pages later, Mr. Watson,
a Hoosier senator and a Republican landmark, described Roosevelt as "an occasional drinker." Jim often lunched and dined with him. Sometimes Roosevelt took a drink. Other times he refused.
But he certainly did get tight
occasionally.

On Joe Cannon's 70th birthday
there was a big celebration and Jim recalls that a big fund was raised for the party of which it was said that $100 was wasted for food.

"The feast was sumptuous, every kind of liquor flowed freely and everybody had a bully time. President Roosevelt came in about 11 o'clock. He asked for champagne.
Each man then stepped up, filled
his glass and asked the president
to have one with him which he obligingly did. As there were a considerable number of gentlemen
and as a couple of them who were not overly fond of Roosevelt consistently poured whiskey into his champagne behind his back, it was not long before the president was in 'as convivial spirits as any of the rest. When he sued a Michigan publisher, he did admit on the stand having taken 'something to drink' at Uncle Joe's birthday party."

Jim recalled one other occasion,
but only one, when Roosevelt
drank "more than he usually did."
This was a dinner and Roosevelt
"quaffed copious drafts of champagne."

But Jim quotes him as having said another time: "I'll drink whatever I want to, whenever, I want to drink it, up to the point
of being incapable to take care of the business of being president.
It is my own affair up to that point. Beyond that it would be the affair of the people."

But the party concerned never is an objective judge and many a red-eyed wreck has told the judge in the morning that all he had
was a couple of beers at the corner.

Franklin Roosevelt gave away
a world to Stalin in meetings described as orgies. The witnesses do not try to absolve him of getting drunk among so many toss-pots. They just evade the subject.

The greatest known underwater range of mountains is the mid-Atlantic ridge which stretches from Iceland almost to the Antarctic.

Home Bureau Speaker Tells of Fabric Progress, Future

Miss Beth Peterson, home economist of the DuPont company in Wilmington, Del., was guest speaker at the 18th annual meeting of the Lee County Home Bureau members in the Grace Evangelical United Brethren church yesterday. A home demonstrator in the state of Iowa and a clothing specialist at Iowa State university before assuming her present position, Miss Peterson talked on the topic "Preview of Progress" at the afternoon session.

The morning session was opened by Mrs. LaVerne Kersten of Ashton who played a group of piano solos. Mrs. Blaine Allen of Ashton led in group singing and Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich, president, called the meeting to order. The Rev. Park O. Bailey, pastor of the church, gave the invocation.

Officers Named

Mrs. J. C. Englebrecht, chairman of the nominating committee, gave her report. The following officers for the coming year were named:

Mrs. Milton Vaupel, president; Mrs. Glenn Pfoutz, vice-president; Mrs. Elynn Drew, secretary; Mrs. Forrest Robbins, treasurer; Mrs. Archie Brown, program chairman; Mrs. Charles Crombie, health and safety chairman; Mrs. Gail Travis, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Ernest Sair, music chairman and Mrs. Keith Swartz, 4-H chairman. Mrs. Coral Ackert, past president, was the installing officer.

The group was served luncheon at Brinton Memorial Masonic temple after which the afternoon session was opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. Wilbur Schreiner with Mrs. Harlan Benson as accompanist. Mrs. Mildred Mattes gave a reading and the trophy for the largest net gain in membership was presented to the Viola unit.

Honor Awards

Twelve blue ribbon units were announced as follows: Bradford, Dixon Afternoon, Compton, Hamilton, Lee Center, Palmyra, Viola, China, Amboy, Dixon Evening, Marion, May-East Grove and Reynolds. Mrs. F. C. Hoffman and Miss Ruth Hoffman of Harmon were given special recognition for perfect attendance during the past seven years and Mrs. Ed Erves was honored for ten years' perfect attendance. A gavel was presented to the Harmon unit for the largest attendance at the meeting.

The day's speaker began her talk with a statement that down through the years, homemaking has been characterized by time-consuming tedious housekeeping details. "But today's homemaker will find research bringing about many new developments to lighten housekeeping tasks," she added.

"Engineered" Fabric
For example, the new fabrics that are coming onto the market are "engineered" for the jobs they are to do. The best features of both the man-made and the natural fibers are blended to increase the range and extend the usefulness of both types of fibers. The result, Miss Peterson said, means fabrics that are sheer, yet strong; washables that require little or no ironing, yet retain their original beauty and shape. Special finishes that impart softness or stiffness and soil or water resistance to fabrics, also contribute greatly to efficiency in performance.

"It all adds up," Miss Peterson pointed out. "to better service and less trouble for the homemaker."

'News of Nylon

Although nylon is a widely-known product, it is still making news, Miss Peterson pointed out. Nylon staple yarn is one new development of tremendous importance to the textile industry. Because of its strength, abrasion resistance, and dimensional stability in washing, it is now possible to make sweaters that require no blocking, extremely lightweight blankets, and longer-wearing socks.

New variations in weights and twists of nylon-hosiery yarns are making possible versatile stocking wardrobes ranging from the sheerest cobwebs to the sturdy types. New possibilities in the knit-wear field are opening up as a result of using nylon yarn. If nylon is properly pre-set, bagging and sagging are prevented, eliminating faults with which the knitwear trade has always had to struggle.

Other Materials

Even the basic ingredients of nylon are being broadened, Miss Peterson continued. "Such things as corn cobs, peanut shells, and oats, rice, and cottonseed hulls can now help contribute to the glamour in a woman's wardrobe. A new process utilizes these and similar agricultural by-products in making fur, which in turn can be made into adiponitrile, a chemical important in making nylon."

Miss Peterson emphasized that, as a result of constant research resulting in lowered production costs, industry has been able to reduce prices on innumerable consumer products.

"Cellophane is a splendid example of this," she said. "The Du Pont Company sold the first cellophane made in this country for $2.65 a pound in 1924. At this price it was considered a luxury item, and it wasn't even moisture-proof. Today, the moistureproof film, selling at 44 cents a pound, has become an important packaging material both for home and commercially frozen foods."

Price reductions, concluded Miss Peterson, are but one example of the consumer benefits resulting from the American system of free enterprise. The combined efforts of labor, management, distributor and investor today are giving the average American family the highest standard of living the world has ever known.

As examples of the new textile developments, Miss Peterson displayed abrasion-resistant linings and upholstery fabrics; shrink-resistant curtains that wash quickly and easily; knitwear that resists bagging and sagging; children's clothing that withstands wear and tear and soiling; and fabrics that give warmth without bulk and sheerness without loss of strength.

The speaker also displayed a number of articles made of new plastics, chemical rubber, and other materials which she cited as examples of what chemical industry has to offer toward the future.

Four Jurors Judge Pictures to Be Displayed in Phidain Art Gallery

Members of the jury judging the pictures to be exhibited at the opening of the art gallery in the Loveland House have inspected and judged the pictures which will be on exhibition after the 18th of this month. Thirteen artists submitted pictures, many of which the judges commented upon very favorably.

The jury consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Blenden Kneale of Frances Shimer college, and Franklin Boggs and Clayton Charles of Beloit college, who are all artists of distinction.

Jury's Backgrounds

Mr. Boggs was born in Warsaw, Ind., and was awarded two European traveling fellowships from the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. His paintings are invited for exhibition in leading museums throughout the country. He is artist in residence at Beloit college and is now working on a 112-foot long mural for a building in New Orleans.

Mr. Charles has his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, has taught art in the University of Alabama, been director of education at the Milwaukee Art institute and joined Beloit college as assistant professor of art in 1947. Mr. Charles won the Joseph E. Davies award at the Wisconsin Salon of Art in 1939 and exhibited at the Sculpture of the Western Hemisphere collection and at the Corcoran Art gallery in Washington, D. C., and many other places. Mr. Kneale, art director at Frances Shimer college, began his formal training at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts and through meritorious work was recommended to accept an appointment at the Buzza company to do research work in the field of commercial design. Mr. Kneale's work also developed in the fine arts as a water colorist. Serving with the engineers in World War II in China and Burma as a war artist he created several on the history of the American Army in all wars. He brought back a collection of paintings which has circulated throughout the midwest in one-man shows.

Meeting Guests

The Kneale household enjoys a partnership art atmosphere as Mrs. Kneale is also an artist, turning her talent to sculpture and studying under Charles A. Wells in Minneapolis. She has done work in ornamental stone and iron, made jewelry and taught in Milwaukee and at Frances Shimer in Mt. Carroll.

This gifted group will be present at the Phidian Art club members' meeting on the 18th when they will present an informal talk on the exhibit. The committee in charge asks the exhibitors claim their rejected picture by the last of this week.

Students To Present "Every Family Has One" In DHS Auditorium Nov. 14

Dixon High school dramatic club members will present "Every Family Has One" by George Batson Friday evening, Nov. 14, at 8:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The play is a humorous story of an ordinary family and of the trials and tribulations that result from seemingly harmless actions. Love is subtly intermingled with humor in the comedy.

Theme of Play

The story is built around the Reardon family and its eccentricities. Shirley Barrowman is featured as Laura Reardon, the mother, and playing opposite her is Jim Gannon in the part of Reginald Reardon, the head of the house. Georgia Curran portrays the part of Penelope Reardon, a devilish 11-year-old and Faith "Mickey" Jewitt plays the part of the Reardons' 20-year-old daughter. Warry, the 17-year-old son, is Wayne Thomas.

Velma Plum as vigorous, old Nana Reardon and Evelyn Hinds, cast as cousin Lily, an 18-year-old girl with theatrical aspirations, complete the Reardon family.

Others in Cast

Mrs. Parker, a tall aristocratic woman, is portrayed by Helen Zbinden and Ray Rhoads is cast as her big and blustering husband James. Their son Sherwin, played by Carl Buchner III, is engaged to Marcia. Todd Galloway, Don Memler, completes the eternal triangle. Nadine Wolfe is cast as the tall, weebegone maid of the Reardons.

This play is under the direction of Miss Olga Eneroth.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Mothers Club Has Talk on Hair Care

Young Mothers club members met last night at the home of Mrs. Frank Randall. Mrs. J. W. Hurley of the Sterling and Moline Schools of Beauty Culture was guest speaker and talked on the "Care and Management of the Hair."

Mrs. Hurley discussed the various types of permanents and suggested the types best for different kinds of hair. The speaker also commented on the various types of shampoo and the use of oil and laquer on the hair and compared the difference between the old-fashioned of ratting the hair in which the hair is matted close to the head and is inclined to snarl, and the newer back-combing method in which the hair is matted gradually from the head out to the ends and can be brushed out easily.

Pictures of the latest hair styles were passed around as Mrs. Hurley talked. She pointed out that with the new longer skirts and the current trend in hats hair should be styled with flatness on top and back away from the hairline in large waves. Her suggestion was illustrated by a demonstration of styling given by Miss Betty Potter of Dixon with Miss Glenda Conner of Ohio as her model. Both the latter are students at the Sterling School of Beauty Culture.

An open discussion of hair problems was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served by hostess committee members.

5 Community Unit School Districts Urged for Bureau

Hearings on Recommen- dations of Survey Com- mittee Announced

(Telegraph Special Service)
Ohio—The Bureau county school survey committee has recommended, in its tentative report made public this week, that the 143 school districts in the county be reorganized into seven community unit districts.

The realignment would place Ohio's school district in District No. 2 with Walnut.

Specifically, District No. 1 would include all of the present Lamolite high school district, and non-high school territory in the neighborhood of Van Orin as well. District No. 2 would include all territory now in the Ohio district, in Bureau and Lee counties; Walnut school district in Bureau, Lee and Whiteside counties; the non-high school territory south of Ohio; and the non-high school territory on the northern edge of the Walnut district in Lee county.

Hearings Scheduled
Public hearings for discussion of the tentative report have been scheduled by the survey board at Lamolite Tuesday, Nov. 25, at 7:30 p. m., for District No. 1, and at Walnut Thursday, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p. m., for District No. 2.

Ohio at present has an enrollment of 60 high school students. Walnut's enrollment is 137, while Lamolite has 123 high school students.

Members of the survey board include E. A. Gilchrist, Walnut, chairman; Mrs. Carl Hasselman, Biskilwa, vice chairman; Louis H. Anderson, Lamolite; Martin Manning, Ladd; Forest Neidergang, Spring Valley; A. L. McRoberts, Malden; Cecil Gingrich, Sheffield; T. J. Conley, Walnut, and Eugene Natfziger, Princeton.

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood — (AP) — Wallace Beery, old indestructible of the motion picture industry, says he'll never retire.

Back for retakes on "Alias The Gentleman," Beery was asked if he will ever call a halt to his 35-year film career.

"Now," he rumbled, "I'll just go on acting till I drop."

His current film is supposedly his 250th, but Wally says the actual number is around 400, "counting all those one, two and three-reelers I did in the old days."

Wally plans to do one picture a year and spend the rest of the time in travel or at his Jackson Hole, Wyo., ranch. He has nothing against the acting profession. In fact, when his daughter, Carol

Ann, graduates from his school next June, he plans to help her start as an actress in the movies.

Jimmy Stewart is the kind of a guy who seldom waxes enthusiastic about anything, but get him started on flying and he's a different man.

On the "Call Northside 777" set he was speaking animatedly about the Howard Hughes flying boat, "round-the-world fliers and Ty Power's air journeys. But he's just a spectator these days."

"I've only flown a little since I got back," he said. "I had enough of that during the war."

Bing Crosby is the hardest working man in Hollywood these days, believe it or not. He goes to work at 6:30 a. m. making records in preparation for the ban on musical discs. Then he cavorts at Paramount in "Conn. Yankee" until dusk. His radio troupe is recording two shows a week, also, because of the Petrillo ban, and that takes care of his nights. Surprisingly enough, Bing doesn't beef.

"It's not work," he says. "All I do is sing."

Hollywood — (AP) — Six to go. That's the attitude of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., to his picture career. After six more films he plans to give up swords and swashbuckling and return to his favorite field, diplomacy.

Of the six at least three will be for the Fairbanks Company, with which Doug is carrying on the family tradition. The others will be for other studios.

"I hope," he added cautiously, "that these films will make enough money to enable me to enter the diplomatic field."

Doug is making good progress toward that goal. His first production, "The Exile," appears to be a money-maker and by owning his pictures, he can expect an income from them over a period of years.

In addition, he is a witty fact that as part of his current deal with 20th-Fox for "This is the Moment," The studio pays his company's overhead while Doug is in the picture.

Another factor involving his future retirement from the screen is his hearing. During his Navy service he suffered an ear injury. The hearing in his right ear is failing and Doug expects total deafness on that side in time. Hearing is important to an actor.

But his main reason is his love of diplomacy. He got his first taste of it in 1937 when he performed special missions for the U. S. In 1941, he was a presidential envoy to Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Peru. He served five years in the Navy, emerging as a commander. He is believed to be the most decorated of theatrical people during the war. His medals include the Legion of Merit, Silver Star, French Legion of Merit and Croix de Guerre with palm.

Doug has been involved in picture-making in the past two years, but he has kept his hand in international matters. He is an officer of the American Association for the United Nations, Inc., designed to promote better understanding of the U. N.

Chicago, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Mrs. Marie Brunn, 39, who said she drowned her seven-month-old son Sept. 24 because "I couldn't take care of him," was adjudged insane by a Criminal court jury yesterday and ordered committed to the Kankakee state hospital.

$6,000,000,000 Cut in Federal Tax Is Possible Says CED

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—Congressional tax experts received today a report from the Committee for Economic Development saying the U. S. tax load can be lightened $6,000,000,000 in 1948 without jeopardizing foreign aid or payments on the national debt.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) turned the findings of the businessmen's group over to staff consultants of the house ways and means committee, but said he still plans to press for enactment of his own proposal to cut income taxes by $4,000,000,000 at the regular session of congress.

The committee for Economic Development is headed by Paul C. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corp.

Its report called for a new federal budget policy and increasingly sharp cuts in individual and corporations taxes until these total $15,000,000,000 below present levels sometime in the 1950's.

The recommendations were qualified with the phrase "unless inflationary conditions make this unwise."

Must Be Planned Carefully

The CED argued that "it is important that careful plans for tax revision be made in the congress as soon as possible."

As a starter in tax reduction, the CED suggested:

1. Reduce the present first bracket rate of individuals (now 18 per cent on the first $2,000 of taxable income) to 15.2 per cent on the first $1,000; graduate the rates upward until they reach 67.3 at $100,000 of taxable income and a top rate of 82 per cent at $1,000,000.
2. Extend to all states the community property principle for tax computation purposes, allowing husbands and wives to divide the family income equally, holding the income in lower brackets and reducing the taxes. This now is effective in 13 states by their own laws.

3. Remove excise taxes on communications and transportation.
4. Make a start toward eliminating the double tax on dividends—that is, the taxation of a corporation's earnings as well as the dividends paid to stockholders.

Long Negotiations End in Pay Pact for Harvester Plants

Chicago, Nov. 13—(AP)—After more than a year's negotiations, wage settlements affecting 5,000 workers in 11 International Harvester plants have been agreed upon. The company estimated the hikes will amount to approximately $865,000 a year.

The wage agreement was announced last night by William J. Reilly, the company's manager of labor relations, who said it would be presented to the International Harvester Council of the CIO United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers union for ratification, and then submitted to the 11 union locals for approval. There were strikes at the various plants during negotiations.

Depending upon job classification and plant where employed, Reilly said, the increases granted range from approximately 1/2 cent an hour to 2 1/2 cents. The 5,000 workers involved are among the 40,000 total employees in the 11 Harvester plants.

The wage adjustments are retroactive to April 23 in all plants except the Louisville, Ky., plant, where they date back to Aug. 21, and the Canton, Ill., plant, where they are retroactive to July 10. The dates of retroactivity for the two excepted plants are the dates on which the union was certified at those plants, Reilly explained.

A strike is in progress at the company's Rock Falls, Ill., plant, over other issues than those involved in last night's settlement and Reilly said when the employees there return to their jobs, the new agreement also will be applied to that plant.

In addition to the Louisville, Canton and Rock Falls plants, the agreement covers workers in the following locations:

Auburn, N. Y.; East Moline, Ill., the Farmall Works at Rock Island, Ill.; Richmond, Ind., and four Chicago plants.

Music Festival at D. H. S. Next Week

The annual North Central Illinois conference music festival will be held in the high school auditorium Friday, Nov. 21, with Dixon host to 10 schools, it was announced today.

Dixon will entertain DeKalb, Geneseo, Spring Valley, Mendota, Ottawa, Princeton, Rochelle, Rock Falls and Sterling high school groups which, with the local high school, will contribute their outstanding musical talent to create a 200-voice mixed chorus and a 150-piece concert band.

Henry Veld, who is well known for his work with the famous Augustana choir, will direct the festival chorus. Glen Cliff Bainum, director of Northwestern university's band, will direct the concert band.

The festival is produced annually by schools of the conference to demonstrate what can be accomplished through cooperation, rather than competition. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Big Wheat Crop Possible Despite Delay in Seeding

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—A bumper wheat crop is still possible next year despite a serious seeding delay in the great plains, agriculture department officials said today.

A department crop report yesterday said about 25 per cent of the intended wheat acreage in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico remained unseeded Nov. 1 because of critically dry weather.

These six states produced about 40 per cent of this year's record crop of 1,406,000,000 bushels.

The report said seeding has progressed well, however, on what now appears to be an increased acreage in all other important producing areas.

Officials said that assuming next year's production in the six drought-affected states is only one half this year's, it still would be possible, on the basis of present prospects, to harvest a total crop of at least 1,000,000,000 bushels.

The United States has produced only four crops of a billion bushels or more, and they were grown during the past four years. Wheat output averaged 890,000,000 bushels for the 1936-45 period.

While officials would like to see another record crop because of the world grain shortage, they point out that a billion-bushel yield still would permit this country to export a much larger quantity of wheat in the 1948 crop year than it normally shipped before the war.

The report gave few changes in production estimates for this year's crops from estimates of a month ago. Corn declined slightly in quantity, but improved in quality and livestock feeding value. The crop is about 25 per cent below last year's record and 17 per cent short of government estimates of need based on rates of use during the past year.

Wants to Pay 'Debt' He Owes U. S.

Joshua Brisk, left, 17-year-old Romanian war orphan, had Dr. Robert Ziegler, right, American Legion chaplain in Los Angeles, appointed his guardian so the under-age boy could join the U. S. During the war, Brisk killed his Nazi schoolteacher and saved the lives of 17 American pilots by blinding their pursuers with a magnesium bomb and leading the airmen to safety. He received a special permit to enter this country last year.

Mail Truck Driver is Held in $23,000 Theft

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—Robert W. McCloy, 22, Mattoon mail truck driver, was seized here last night and Sheriff Eugene Lafontaine said he told of stealing $23,000 in cash he was transporting from the Mattoon postoffice to a railroad station there yesterday.

McCloy was arrested shortly before last midnight in a Kankakee tavern where, the sheriff said, he was displaying large amounts of money and was buying drinks for the house.

Sheriff Lafontaine said McCloy related that he stole the $23,000 from a registered mail pouch early yesterday. The money had been consigned by the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis to state banks at Farina and Elkhart, Ill. The abandoned truck was found in Mattoon, with the empty pouch and two empty money bags, which had been slit open with scissors. The sheriff said McCloy told him he came to Kankakee by taxicab from Champaign. He had taken a bus to Champaign from Danville, where he purchased a new outfit of clothes.

Route Traced Quickly

Mattoon police yesterday had traced McCloy's route to Danville. By taxicab from Mattoon to Arcola, by hitch-hiking from Arcola to Tuscola; and then by two more cabs from Tuscola to Champaign and from Champaign to Danville.

The sheriff said McCloy had $1,584.20 in two billfolds. He also was carrying a bag full of money, which was held for post office inspectors who planned to question him in the Kankakee county jail.

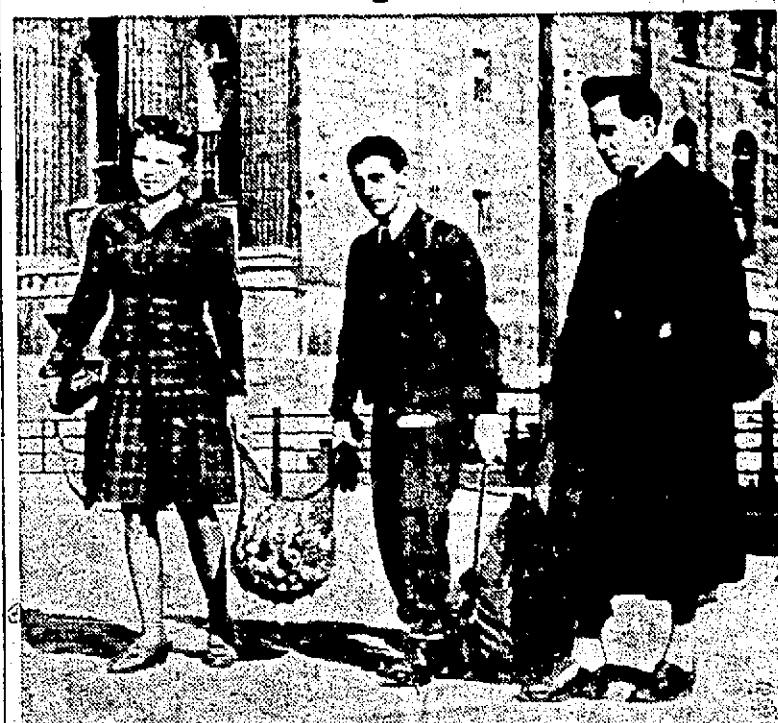

McCloy formerly was a cab driver at Mattoon, where he had resided for about two years. He previously had resided in Decatur. He was employed as a driver by Robert Brown, who has the contract for transporting mail from the Mattoon postoffice to the railroad station.

He was arrested in the Club 49, a tavern on the outskirts of Kankakee. The sheriff said he was unarmed and offered no resistance to deputies, who had received a telephone tip that a stranger was spending unusually large sums of money in the establishment.

Mattoon police said McCloy's mother, Mrs. Gethel Vourne, resides at 2440 East Wood street, Decatur.

Indianapolis Man Held In Housewife's Murder

Indianapolis, Nov. 13—(AP)—A 25-year-old Indianapolis city employee was questioned by detectives today in connection with the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Mary Lois Burney, 39-year-old wife of a food broker, in their suburban home yesterday.

Her husband, Hersell Burney, told the police he found her body when he returned home from his office. She was lying across a bed, part of her face torn away by a shotgun blast. A butcher knife, its blade bent, was nearby.

Police said the living room, dining room and bedroom showed evidence of a violent struggle.

Detectives studied similarities between the slaying and that of Mrs. Mabel Marrieffield, 68, wife of an attorney, who was stabbed in her suburban home two weeks ago.

They also sought to connect Mrs. Burney's slaying with an attack on another housewife, Mrs. Harriet Stout, 28, in her home less than half a mile from the Burney home. Mrs. Stout reported she fought off a man armed with a knife who entered her home yesterday.

The man being questioned was first taken into custody in connection with the incident at the Stout home.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder said today that 505 Illinois state banks in response to the Sept. 29 call for a statement of condition reported total resources of $3,258,575,897 and total deposits of $3,075,454,409.

The figures compared with total resources of $3,143,021,644 and total deposits of $2,965,382,981 reported by the 501 state banks in operation when a similar call was issued last June 30.

Lueder said 24 state banks in Chicago showed resources of $1,792,906,749 and $1,688,922,405 in deposits.

Communists in Auto Workers Union Are Apparently on Run

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 13—(AP)—Walter Reuther's impressive victories in the United Auto Workers elections shot new strength today into the growing campaign of CIO leadership to push down communist influence in CIO unions.

President Reuther's forces now have captured the four top offices of the 900,000-member UAW-CIO.

Today in more elections at the UAW convention, they seemed certain to get a majority of the 22-man executive board for the first time.

These facts have sharp meaning for the whole CIO, in the following ways:

First, by example, the UAW's waning communist majority was on the losing side of the fight. There are communist groups in certain other CIO unions, too. Their foes have taken new encouragement.

Second, by putting Reuther in a stronger position to support Philip Murray, president of the CIO who has been gradually—and more openly—applying the pressure on the CIO's left-wing.

Here are the UAW's four top leaders for the next year: president—Reuther, who was re-elected without serious opposition; secretary-treasurer, Emil Mazey, who deposed George Addes; vice president, Dick Cosser, who beat R. J. Thomas; vice president, John Livingston, who beat Dick Leonard in the fourth election last night.

Reds Told to Agree on Nothing, U. S. Believes

London, Nov. 13—(AP)—An official United States observer at the big four deputy foreign ministers' council, working on peace pacts for Germany and Austria, asserted today that the Soviet delegation "apparently had instructions not to agree to anything" in dispute.

His opinion was expressed to reporters following a fifth spade-work session in preparation for the meeting of the diplomatic chiefs of the United States, Britain, France and Russia opening here Nov. 23.

The observer said no progress was made in ironing out disputes among the big powers.

Illinois Cities Discuss Lag in Natural Gas

Decatur, Ill. Nov. 13—(AP)—
The Decatur Association of Commerce has invited officials of 10
other central Illinois cities to meet here Monday to discuss recent curtailments of natural gas deliveries.

The president of the association,
Harold M. Osgood, said the officials will consider possible
courses of action to pursue with
the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline
Co. and the Federal Power Commission. Panhandle delivers the gas to the Illinois Power Co., and other central Illinois distributors.

Representatives from Jacksonville, Springfield, Champaign, Urbana, Danville, Peoria, Galesburg, Lincoln, Mattoon and Paris were invited to the meeting.

Some deliveries of natural gas
to certain industrial users have already been curtailed because of a shortage of pipeline facilities.

The Panhandle Co. has asked
the Federal Power Commission
for permission to expand its system, and hearings on the matter
are being held in Washington.

French is spoken in five of Switzerland's 25 cantons and German in 18 of the others. The remaining two use Italian and Romanian.

Center of all "Ayes"

You look over those long, clean lines, free and flowing as the wind—and you say "Aye!" to that.

You slip behind the ready wheel, settle yourself in deep, soft cushions—and once more the "Ayes" have it.

You finger the little buttons that run the door windows up or down, test out the control that at a touch positions the front seat for you—and those things win your nod.

Now put foot to treadle. There's the quick answer of eight big Fireball cylinders, tossing down a challenge to go adventuring.

Look over the top. A pull on a knob will swing it back out of the way—yet you find it tight and snug against the nippiest of November winds. Make a little test run, picking out roads not noted for their smoothness.

They're ironed level by four coil springs, cushioned by Safety-Ride rims that get 25-lb. softness from standard 30-lb.-pressure tires.

You test the wheel, the brakes, the room, the road-hugging steadiness. They all win "Ayes" as America's most wanted automobile shows why it is just that.

Centered here are all the good things you want in a car—including style that stands all alone for sheer beauty and as a forecast of coming things.

So why hold back?

Be as smart as those who've gone before you and get your order in, with or without a car to trade, soon as you can.

Seeing Governor Dewey Involves Passing Officer

Boyle Learns of Custom; Listens to Comments on State, Life

By HAL BOYLE
Albany, N. Y. — (AP) — To get in to see Thomas E. Dewey you must first pass the critical muster of a big, red-haired, well-armed state policeman, who then unlocks the door leading to the governor's office suite.

This American political oddity — that even in a democracy — be protected from the people they serve — has always interested me. I asked about the locked door.

"It wasn't Dewey's idea," an Albany newspaper said. "It's been the custom here for some time. You know in a state as big and complex as New York there are a lot of screwballs, and..."

And that explains the police guard and locked door.

Entrance to Office

Going through the outer office you pass a shelf parade of 150 miniature souvenir elephants collected by Executive Secretary Paul Lockwood. The collection contains one small donkey chained to an elephant.

The day I called Dewey was dressed in a brown suit and tie, guileless of wrinkle. About both his person and his office there was an air of careful neatness and precision.

The reporter accompanying me remarked jokingly that I had come to get the governor's announcement he would seek the Republican presidential nomination. Dewey gave me a precise smile.

"That makes you a member of a very large club," he laughed.

At 45 Dewey looks no older than the days when he first won national attention as the racket-fighting Manhattan district attorney. He is less reserved in manner now, however, and for half an hour chatted pleasantly — off the record — on political figures. He impressed me as a man of quick keen wit rather than broad humor.

Favorite Books, Men

Keys to any man's intellectual life are the books he reads and the men he admires. Dewey said the book he remembered as influencing him most in his formative years was "The Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens" which pictured the decay of city government under boss rule. He still prefers biography to other types of reading.

He said the political leaders of the past who had most guided his thinking were Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton and Lincoln.

As he talked he worked methodically at his cigar holder with a pipe cleaner, and consulted a water carafe at his right hand. Once he sent the carafe out to be filled.

He said his biggest worries had been to obtain proper staffs for state mental hospitals and to "keep the wolves away who want-

Dixonite Writes of Her Trip to Hawaii, Alaska and Canada

Telegraph Publisher, in Letter, Describes Tropic Beauty

Mabel S. Shaw, publisher of the Evening Telegraph, who has been on an extended trip to the Hawaiian Islands by air and to Alaska by boat has written her family in Dixon some interesting letters, descriptive of the places she has visited and some of them will be published in these columns. Another of the letters follows:

At The Chateau Lake Louise, Alberta, Canada.

My Dear Family:

My Sunday's letter, I think I dated the 18th instead of the 17th. It is the hardest thing to keep track of the day and the date. We do not look at our itinerary every day, else we would know.

People from all over the world gather here. A group of Iowa farmers just arrived, yesterday a Hindu man and woman of high rank arrived. She had a red mark on her forehead—whether a jewel or not I could not see. Today the Queen of Egypt, Nazli, and two daughters, Princess Fatima and Princess Fakka, 16 and 21, arrived. We have not seen the Queen Mother, but sat near her daughters during the concert this evening. They had fair skins, black hair, black eyes. They were dressed in black—very simple. One was thin, the other fat. They got acquainted with two boys who sat next to them and we were glad to see them have a good time.

We will have several days at Banff, which will be nice as there is much of interest there. Most people stay here only a few days, however there is some entertainment every evening and plenty to do.

Myrtle Walgreen was thrilled with her trip to the ice fields and thinks she has some very nice pictures. I hope you can all see them. Gwen has been enjoying painting the glacier and mountains.

This is a heavenly place—really so beautiful it hurts. One could sit for hours in the comfortable chairs and gaze upon the blue waters of the lake and the gorgeous snow-capped mountains, silently absorbing the beauty. The lights and shadows make an ever-changing and charming picture that is satisfying beyond words. I love it.

There is much activity here. Boating and horseback riding, also scores of hiking parties. Then bright clothes and the many flower beds of red, blue, pink, yellow and white surely give color most pleasing to the eye. Can you resist all this? As I have said before, you must see some of these beauty spots. When you spend money this way you really have something.

Again with love—Mother.

SOS Sign Saves an Over-Zealous Worker

Detroit, Nov. 13—(AP)—An SOS sign dangling from an eighth story window was needed last night to free a zealous department store worker from the store's warehouse where he had been locked inadvertently at closing time.

Joseph Gibson, 49-year-old employee of the J. L. Hudson Co., told police he "liked wrapping Christmas packages" so much that he worked past 5 p. m. and found the elevator idle and the eighth floor stairway door locked when he tried to leave.

Finding a piece of cardboard, he scribbled in red pencil, "please help me, I worked late and got locked in." It is then fashioned a crude rope from string, electric wire and bits of cloth, and held the sign out the window.

A passing truck driver spotted it two hours later and notified police. Officers then located the building watchman and freed Gibson.

It is estimated there are 65 million people in the French Colonial empire.

They are not on the invitation list for the royal nuptials.

Maniu, Who Once Aided
Communists, Gets Life
In Solitary

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Juliu Maniu, grand old man of Romania peasantry and several times premier of his country, has gone the way of all those who oppose communism within the Soviet zone of domination.
A military tribunal has privately pronounced him guilty of treason

the charges including the accusation that he plotted with Andrian to overthrow the government. He was condemned to solitary confinement for life —
a punishment regarded by most as more terrible than death. Eighteen others were convicted of crimes against the state (four in absencia) and received various degrees of punishment.

Once Aided Communists
It is an ironic circumstance that it was Maniu who lifted the prohibition against Communist activity in Romania when he first became premier in 1928 after his National Peasant party had won 85 per cent of the country's vote. The same regard for individual liberty which impelled him to raise this ban also inspired him to battle against control of his country by Moscow, although the denied on the witness stand that he had done nothing treasonable.

Just as Maniu had fought Hit-lerian domination of Romania, so he opposed Soviet rule, which was inaugurated in 1945 when Petru Groza was made premier upon demand of Moscow. The ultimatum for Groza's appointment was delivered to youthful King Mihai by Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, whose two-fistedness has been so well demonstrated in his attacks on America
and Britain in the United Nations.

Thorn in Reds Side
Maniu had been a grievous thorn
in Moscow's side, and the crushing of this aged idol of the peasants would seem to give the Soviet union a tight grip on the country. This is especially true since Russia maintains a large force of troops there.

The tactics employed by the Communists in Romania are typical of those used elsewhere in absorbing eastern Europe into the Russian zone of domination. There is the same pattern of strong-arm
methods against which the

OVERWEIGHT
Eating is one of the most pleasant activities in which we can engage. Unfortunately for most of us, the problem of obtaining food is not too pressing, although we can not minimize the bad effect
which continually rising prices are having on the diet of low income groups. This article is addressed, however, to those who enjoy their food so much that they over-eat.
Others may wish to argue the moral implications of over-eating when such of the world's population is facing imminent starvation.
This appeal will be limited to the enlightened self-interest of those who persistently over-eat to the extent of moderate or marked obesity.

It may sound strange, but the mere presence of considerable excess fat is a distinct health handicap whether it is found in the

"pasty-fat" baby or in the septuagenarian. One rare, if ever, seen the latter individual, because the age of seventy is so seldom reached by the obese person. Somewhere along the way he loses out in the game of life, and his excess
fat is a main contributing factor.
Maybe his heart gave out trying to pump the blood through each additional half mile of blood vessels contributed by every extra pound of weight. Perhaps he succumbed to diabetes and its complications, or arteriosclerosis.
(Hardening of the arteries) was hastened by his obesity. It is no exaggeration to say that over-eating is a slow, even if pleasant,
form of suicide.

To those persons who maintain
that "they never eat a thing" (mostly women; men admit they are fat from eating too much) and yet keep on gaining, one can suggest an honest examination of the face. The only way an individual gains weight is from the food eaten;
without food, the fattest person will starve. Going without breakfast or lunch and then eating pie, cake, or candy in the mid-afternoon will accomplish nothing
in the weight-loss, but it will result in a poorly balanced diet.

If you need a reducing diet, ask your physician or get his permission to consult the Health Department Nutritionist, who will gladly help anyone who wishes assistance and guidance.

Two other factors, the glands
and the emotions, should be mentioned. Many people (again mostly women) claim that glandular
trouble causes their fatness, and quote their physicians in support of the statements. This is an abused diagnosis which many patients force onto their doctors.
Actually the most extensive medical experience indicates that not one in 200 excessively heavy individuals (not one in 200 of the population as a whole) has a glandular disorder as a main factor in obesity. Even in these rare individuals, weight accumulation or reduction still goes right back to food intake—neither they, nor anyone else gains weight from the air he breathes. Many persons are taking unnecessary risk in taking thyroid per se, or in patent drugs containing thyroid, and then excusing themselves with talk about their glands. The same can be said about the use of benzil-

rene, although it is not a glandular product.
Let's face it—overweight is due to over-eating. If you can not control your food intake, talk to your physician and obtain his help in understanding emotional factors in your life which make you over-
eat. No one hesitates to consult him regarding infant feeding
problems, and there is no need to do so about just as urgent feeding problems. It is a life saving measure worth attention. Let's end this on a happy note—"here's to your long lean life."

Between 1890 and 1940 the number of American families increased 175 per cent but the population increased only 110 percent.

The Gibraltar colony of Britain has an area of only one and seven-eighths square miles.

United States and Britain have protested in numerous instances —
Romania being among them.

In Strategic Position
Of course it's easy to understand why Russia wants to have absolute control of Romania. It is a vital section of the eastern European bloc which Moscow has been consolidating.

If you will glance at your map
you will see that not only does Romania lie up against the Soviet frontier, but that it is one of the key positions militarily in the Balkans. It is part of the Russian land route to the Dardanelles; it occupies a long stretch of the Black Sea coast; it controls the mouth of the Danube river, one of the world's greatest water highways, which provides a shipping thoroughfare clear up to Germany.

Moreover, Romania possesses
petroleum and is one of the important grain producing countries of the Balkans. Curiously enough corn (Maize), though not grown in most parts of Europe, is one of the big crops and I've seen fields
of it so large that they reminded me of the U.S.A.

Well, Russia seems to have secured her control all right. It's hard to figure out anything that will disturb it for the time being.

Jury Asks Danvillean Be Held in L. A. Slaying

Los Angeles, Nov. 13—(AP)—A coroner's jury has recommended that a 19-year-old Danville, Ill., youth be held for trial in the fatal shooting of a Los Angeles tailor.

The jury recommended that Gerald L. Richards be held in the slaying Nov. 5 of Charles Vuykov, 52, and Det. Sgt. Harry Fremont, said he will seek a murder conviction from the district attorney.

Richards was arrested Monday after a shooting episode in the Biltmore hotel. Detective Lt. Bob Lohman said the weapon, which inflicted a flesh wound on a hotel official, had been identified as the one which killed Vuykov and also killed Thomas Nitsch of San Diego, who was shot to death Oct. 1, near Socorro, N. M.

Sgt. Fremont said Richards told him he shot Vuykov after the tailor made an indecent proposal. Richards did not testify at the inquest.

Try to Cite LaSalle County Men in Probe

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—State's Attorney Charles A. Helfrich asked the circuit court yesterday to hold two employees of the Paddock club at Streator in contempt for refusing to testify before a grand jury investigating alleged gambling in LaSalle county.

Helfrich told Judge Roy Wilhelm that Philip Giacinto and John Tevel "wilfully refused to testify before the grand jury Nov. 7."

The prosecutor said that although Illinois statutes allow witnesses to refuse to testify to anything that might incriminate themselves, both the men declined to answer inquiries as to their work, employers' work and other pertinent questions.

The estimated $200 billion gross output of the United States in 1944 was more than twice the dollar volume of 1940.

Two Groups Join Fight On Religious Classes

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—Two national organizations joined yesterday in a supreme court brief in support of Mrs. Vashti McCollum's fight against religious instruction in the Champaign public schools.

The Synagogue Council of America and the National Community Relations Advisory Council told the court that religious education classes such as those held in Champaign public schools "will destroy institutions which have prevented religious warfare in this nation."

Mrs. McCollum, who describes herself as an "atheist," has appealed to the United States supreme court for a reversal of the Illinois supreme court's decision approving the Champaign religious education plan.

The case is scheduled for arguments this winter.

Our "Cold War" is Hot in Spots, But Peril Not Imminent

If Marshall Plan Holds Red Ism's Spread, Peace is Aided

By DEWITT MAERKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
This graphic expression "cold war"—to describe the present status of the conflict between Russia and the democracies as compared with the "hot war" of actual military combat—bids fair to take its place among history's colorful figures of speech.
However, like most phrases which represent a play on words, it could lead us into a faulty estimate of the situation if we didn't watch out. We might get the impression that things are cooler than they actually are. As a matter of fact, Soviet operations are far from "cold" in numerous areas. In Greece, for example, we see actual gun-play which the Athens government charges is being fostered by neighboring Soviet satellites, and this view is supported by a United Nations committee of investigation. Then there's the terrible Chinese civil war, which the Nanking Nationalist government says is being aided by Moscow.

U. S. Popular in West
Moreover, besides these extreme cases where powder is being burned, strong-arm methods are being employed in various areas. This is notably evident within that zone of eastern Europe which Moscow is endeavoring to communize and consolidate into a bloc entirely under Russian domination.
A symposium of the European situation by experienced Associated Press correspondents attributes the following views to competent observers:
"United States foreign policy—as contrasted to the Kremlin's—is openly supported by overwhelming national majorities in the west. But in eastern Europe these observers agree, the will of the majority is paralyzed by Communist police action and Russia's immediate military power.
"In lands behind the so-called iron curtain the dictated process of sovietization is ruthlessly being speeded up. Red minorities are tightening their governmental grip. This, however, represents consolidation, not expansion, of the Kremlin's authority. It is like a general suspending a fruitless offensive and ordering his forces to dig in at least temporarily on a static line."

Well, how close is our "cold war" to "hot war"? Apropos of this, James K. Pollock, former adviser on U. S. governmental affairs to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, military government of the American zone in Germany, declares that "we might as well dig in and prepare for the inevitable conflict" if a peace settlement spills Germany into a Soviet dominated area and an area controlled by the western powers.
Present Conference Vital
Pollock makes this statement in a report prepared for the Foreign Policy Association, a private research organization. He says that at the forthcoming foreign ministers' conference in London, to try to write a German peace treaty, the choice is quite clearly for peace or a continuation of the present cold war.

"It is entirely possible," he says, "to solve the German problem in such a way as to contribute to the progress of peaceful international life. But if there is continued drift, or if a division of Germany takes place, a disintegration of the present embryo peace will inevitably occur."
Immediate War Unlikely
Apropos of the grim contingency of a clash at arms between the world's two giant powers—Russia and America—the London periodical "New Statesman" advances the interesting thesis that this can be prevented if England and her neighbors "exploit the balance of power between the east and west."
"Fortunately for us," says the New Statesman, "neither America nor Russia can hope to attack each other without acquiring Europe as a base of operations. By firmly denying it to both we should reduce the risk of war."
Maybe that's an over-simplification. In any event, despite the fact that our "cold war" is warm in spots, the situation strikes me as adding up to the view expressed

Bigger Harvests of Stock Feed Grains Will Be Requested

Government Hopes Hike Will Offset Effects of Poor Corn Crop

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—The government plans to ask farmers to plant nearly 6.5 per cent more land to livestock feed grains next year in an effort to replenish supplies cut short by this year's poor corn crop.
Larger grain harvests will be needed if a serious shortage of meats, dairy and poultry products in this column long ago—that there's little likelihood of a major conflict for years to come. If the Marshall plan holds Communism on its present line, the position will be vastly improved. If the Red tide sweeps through to the English channel, then war is probable in due course.

is to be averted in 1949. These feeds will be scarcer in 1948 than this year because of the present corn shortage.
The Agriculture department prepared to issue at 2 p.m. (CST) today a semi-final estimate on this year's output of corn and a few other major crops.
Expect Little Change
Officials expected little change from last month's estimate placing the corn crop at 2,458,671,000 bushels, a decline of about 25 per cent from last year's record crop of 3,287,927,000 bushels and a drop of about eight per cent from the 1936-15 average of 2,628,102,000.
The corn production goal for this year was 3,000,000,000 bushels. And the government will seek a crop of at least that much in 1948. Tentative plans call for a corn planting goal of 92,000,000 acres, or about 63 per cent more than the 6,400,000 acres planted this year.
Larger Than Preferred
The prospective goal for the principal feed grains—corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums—is 156,000,000 acres. That is about 9,300,000 acres more than was planted to those crops this year.

and about 5,600,000 acres more than the prewar average.
The department already has recommended a 1948 wheat goal of 75,000,000 acres. While this is about 5,000,000 acres more than the 1947 goal, it is about 2,000,000 less than was actually planted for harvest this year.
These grain goals are larger than the department would prefer to recommend officials said, because they will require a sacrifice of good crop rotation and soil conservation practices. But the controlling factors are the continuing urgent demand for big shipments overseas plus the need for building up reserve stocks at home.
The corn acreage may go considerably above the tentative goal because in some sections of the midwest fall plantings of wheat have not been made because of dry weather. Hence some of this land may be put to corn or other feed grains next spring.

Normal Breaks Peak Marks in Attendance

A final analysis of the Illinois State Normal university enrollment shows a number of records broken at the state university for teachers this fall. Not only is the total registration figures of 2,052 resident students the largest in history of the university but the number of men nosed out the number of women by two. There are 1,027 male students at ISNU as compared with 1,025 females.
But the out of state enrollment and the number of students from Cook county are record breakers. Four per cent of 86 ISNU students are from out of state this year. Eight per cent or 190 students are attending the university from Cook county. The enrollment rolls show 11 students attending from Lee county, 18 from Ogle county, two from DeKalb county, 28 from Bureau county and 17 from Whiteside county.
